International student charge

Who pays	Additional fee	How it applies
International students	USD 1,000	Added to the relevant fees shown above

Levy note: The UCL fee schedule does not identify the 2.5% levy as applicable to the USD 1,000 international student charge. Students should confirm the final amount and payment currency with the UCL Finance Department before payment.

Scholarships

- Students seeking a scholarship must apply together with their programme application.
- Students joining with pending results must apply for a scholarship within seven days of the official release of those results.
- Eligible students are required to settle the applicable fees first. The approved scholarship amount will then be refunded.

Payment methods and proof of payment

- Fees may be paid in Sri Lankan Rupees by cheque, bank draft or telegraphic transfer to the account stated in the student's official fee statement.
- Visa, Mastercard and American Express credit cards are accepted for registration and course fee payments.
- For a bank deposit or transfer, state the student's UCL Student ID or reference number and name clearly. Email a scanned copy of the bank slip to finance@ucl.lk and submit the original to obtain the official receipt.

Late or unpaid fees

All fees must be paid by the due date shown in the fee statement. If payment remains outstanding after a reminder, UCL may restrict access to lectures, examinations, final results and the academic record until the debt is settled. Continued non-payment may lead to cancellation of enrolment.

Refund conditions

- The registration fee is non-refundable.
- UCL's payment conditions state that fees paid are non-refundable and cannot be set off against future outstanding payments.
- The original receipt must be produced when withdrawing from the programme.

Fee accuracy and updates

These fees apply to the October 2026 Monash College Diploma of Business intake in Academic Year 2026 2027. Fees may be revised for subsequent academic years or for reasons beyond UCL's control. UCL will update the published schedule when notified of a fee change. Where a student's formal offer, fee statement or approved scholarship notice contains student-specific information, that document should be read together with this published schedule.
